

HUNGARIAN ABSTRACTION AT THE HEART OF THE 193GALLERY !

Since 2018, 193 Gallery's program has explored Southeast Asia, Africa, South America, the Caribbean and Oceania. It continues its epic journey with Abstraction Is Freedom, an explosive exhibition dedicated to the Hungarian art scene from January 7 to February 25 2023 and spanning the entire main space of 24 rue Béranger 75003.

193 Gallery's new group show features Zsofi Barabas, Judith Horvath Loczi, Bea Kusovszky, Marton Nemes and Eszter Poroszlai. Born during the period when an iron curtain divided Europe, these artists have nevertheless evolved in a post-Berlin Wall free world. With the exhibition Abstraction Is Freedom, the 193 Gallery invites you to discover the richness and diversity of Hungarian art, thirty years after a wind of freedom blew over Central and Eastern Europe.

Zsofi Barabas, Black Cloud 2, acrylique et huile sur bois
49 x 67 x 3 cm, 2022

Marton Nemes, Meta painting 20, 70 x 50 x 4
cm, 2022

News from the 193 Gallery

Opening on Saturday 7 January 2023 from 11am to 8pm - Press previews on 5, 6 and 11,12 January 2023 from 10:30am to 6pm

At 21 rue Béranger 75003 Paris — Exhibition Slumberland par Jade Fenu et ouverture de l'atelier résidence de Hyacinthe Ouattara.

At 24 rue Béranger 75003 Paris — Exhibition Abstraction Is Freedom - Scène hongroise du 7 Janvier au 25 Février 2023

Fairs 2023

Art Geneva, Switzerland. From 26 to 29 January 2023 with Jade Fenu, Aldo Chaparro, Valentina Canseco, Javier Toro Blum

1-54 Marrakech, Morocco. From 9 to 12 February 2023 with Hyacinthe Ouattara, Thandiwe Muriu

Zona Maco, Mexico. From 8 to 12 February 2023 with Ben Arpea, Thandiwe Muriu

LA Artshow, USA. From 15 to 19 February 2023 with Aldo Chaparro, Thandiwe Muriu, Samuel Cueto and Idris Habib

Founder — Cesar Levy - cesar@193gallery.com - +33603707826